I strongly believe that all contraception and sterilization procedures should be totally covered by insurance. The fewer conceptions to start with would make this issue of abortion less relevant. If we withhold money for these procedures, we are surely going to have more poor mothers having babies, more families on government aid. That is exactly what we don't want to have happen. So I strongly believe that all contraception, sterilization should be fully covered. As far as the morning after pill and abortion services, personally I believe that should be covered also but understand not all would agree. However, a woman should have the right to control her own body under any circumstances. Abortion will not stop just because insurance doesn't covered it and will not stop if it is illegal either. I believe it is a given but should have limits...perhaps not permitted after 12 weeks. Young teens need education about sex over and over...not penalized by having a child not wanted.

Sincerely,
